Dear Dr. Paragas,

Warm greetings from the Isabela State University Language Center!

In keeping with our shared commitment to promoting language and cultural research through meaningful academic partnerships, we are delighted to invite you and your faculty members again to the rescheduled "Community-Based Language and Identity Development Training Program," originally scheduled for October 20-24 is now set for December 1-5, 2025.

This special event is proudly presented through the collaboration of the Summer Institute of Linguistics (SIL), Isabela State University (ISU), and the Local Government Unit of Echague. The five-day program will take place at the RDET Hall, CVAARRD Building, ISU Echague Campus, and will bring together scholars, linguists, community leaders, culture bearers, and NCIP officials to explore vital skills in contemporary language development, the Sustainable Use Model, and community-based identity preservation.

The registration fee is ₱6,500 per participant, which covers the training kit and lecture modules, honoraria for SIL speakers and facilitators, meals and snacks, and printed certificates for all participants.

We kindly ask interested participants to pre-register by November 15, 2025, through <https://forms.gle/iezEErAD2Lyicauj7> and to remit payments via the Department Secretary's designated GCash and Landbank accounts. Official receipts will be given out during the event.

COMMUNITY-BASED LANGUAGE IDENTITY DEVELOPMENT SPECIALIST TRAINING PROGRAM

Program Overview

This CBLID Specialist Training Program is a five-day, face-to-face intensive training designed for faculty, community leaders, linguists, and cultural bearers, with the collaborative support of SIL, ISU, and LGU Echague. The program emphasizes language vitality, identity, multilingualism, and sustainable language development, employing the Sustainable Use Model (SUM) and participatory learning.

Program Objectives

1. Equip participants with up-to-date knowledge and skills for language documentation, revitalization, and sustainable development using internationally recognized models (e.g., SUM, EGIDS).
2. Foster collaborative research and action among academic, governmental, and community sectors to strengthen local language identity and resilience.
3. Guide participants in mapping linguistic ecologies and domains of use, and in planning actionable interventions responsive to community needs.
4. Ensure joint data ownership and publication, and compliance with intellectual property, procurement, and university standards.
5. Develop participants' capacity for reflective practice, monitoring, and evaluation in community-based language initiatives.

Target Participants
